U.S. Military Bases Abroad, 2020

In 2020, the United States controlled around 800 bases outside the 50 U.S. states and Washington, DC. Map reflects bases' relative number and positioning given best available data. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1776–1803

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. Approximately 60% of U.S. bases abroad closed after the end of the so-called Cold War. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1804–1848

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Because of space limitations, map does not reflect all conflicts between U.S. forces and Native American peoples. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. For ease of comparison we use a Mercator projection

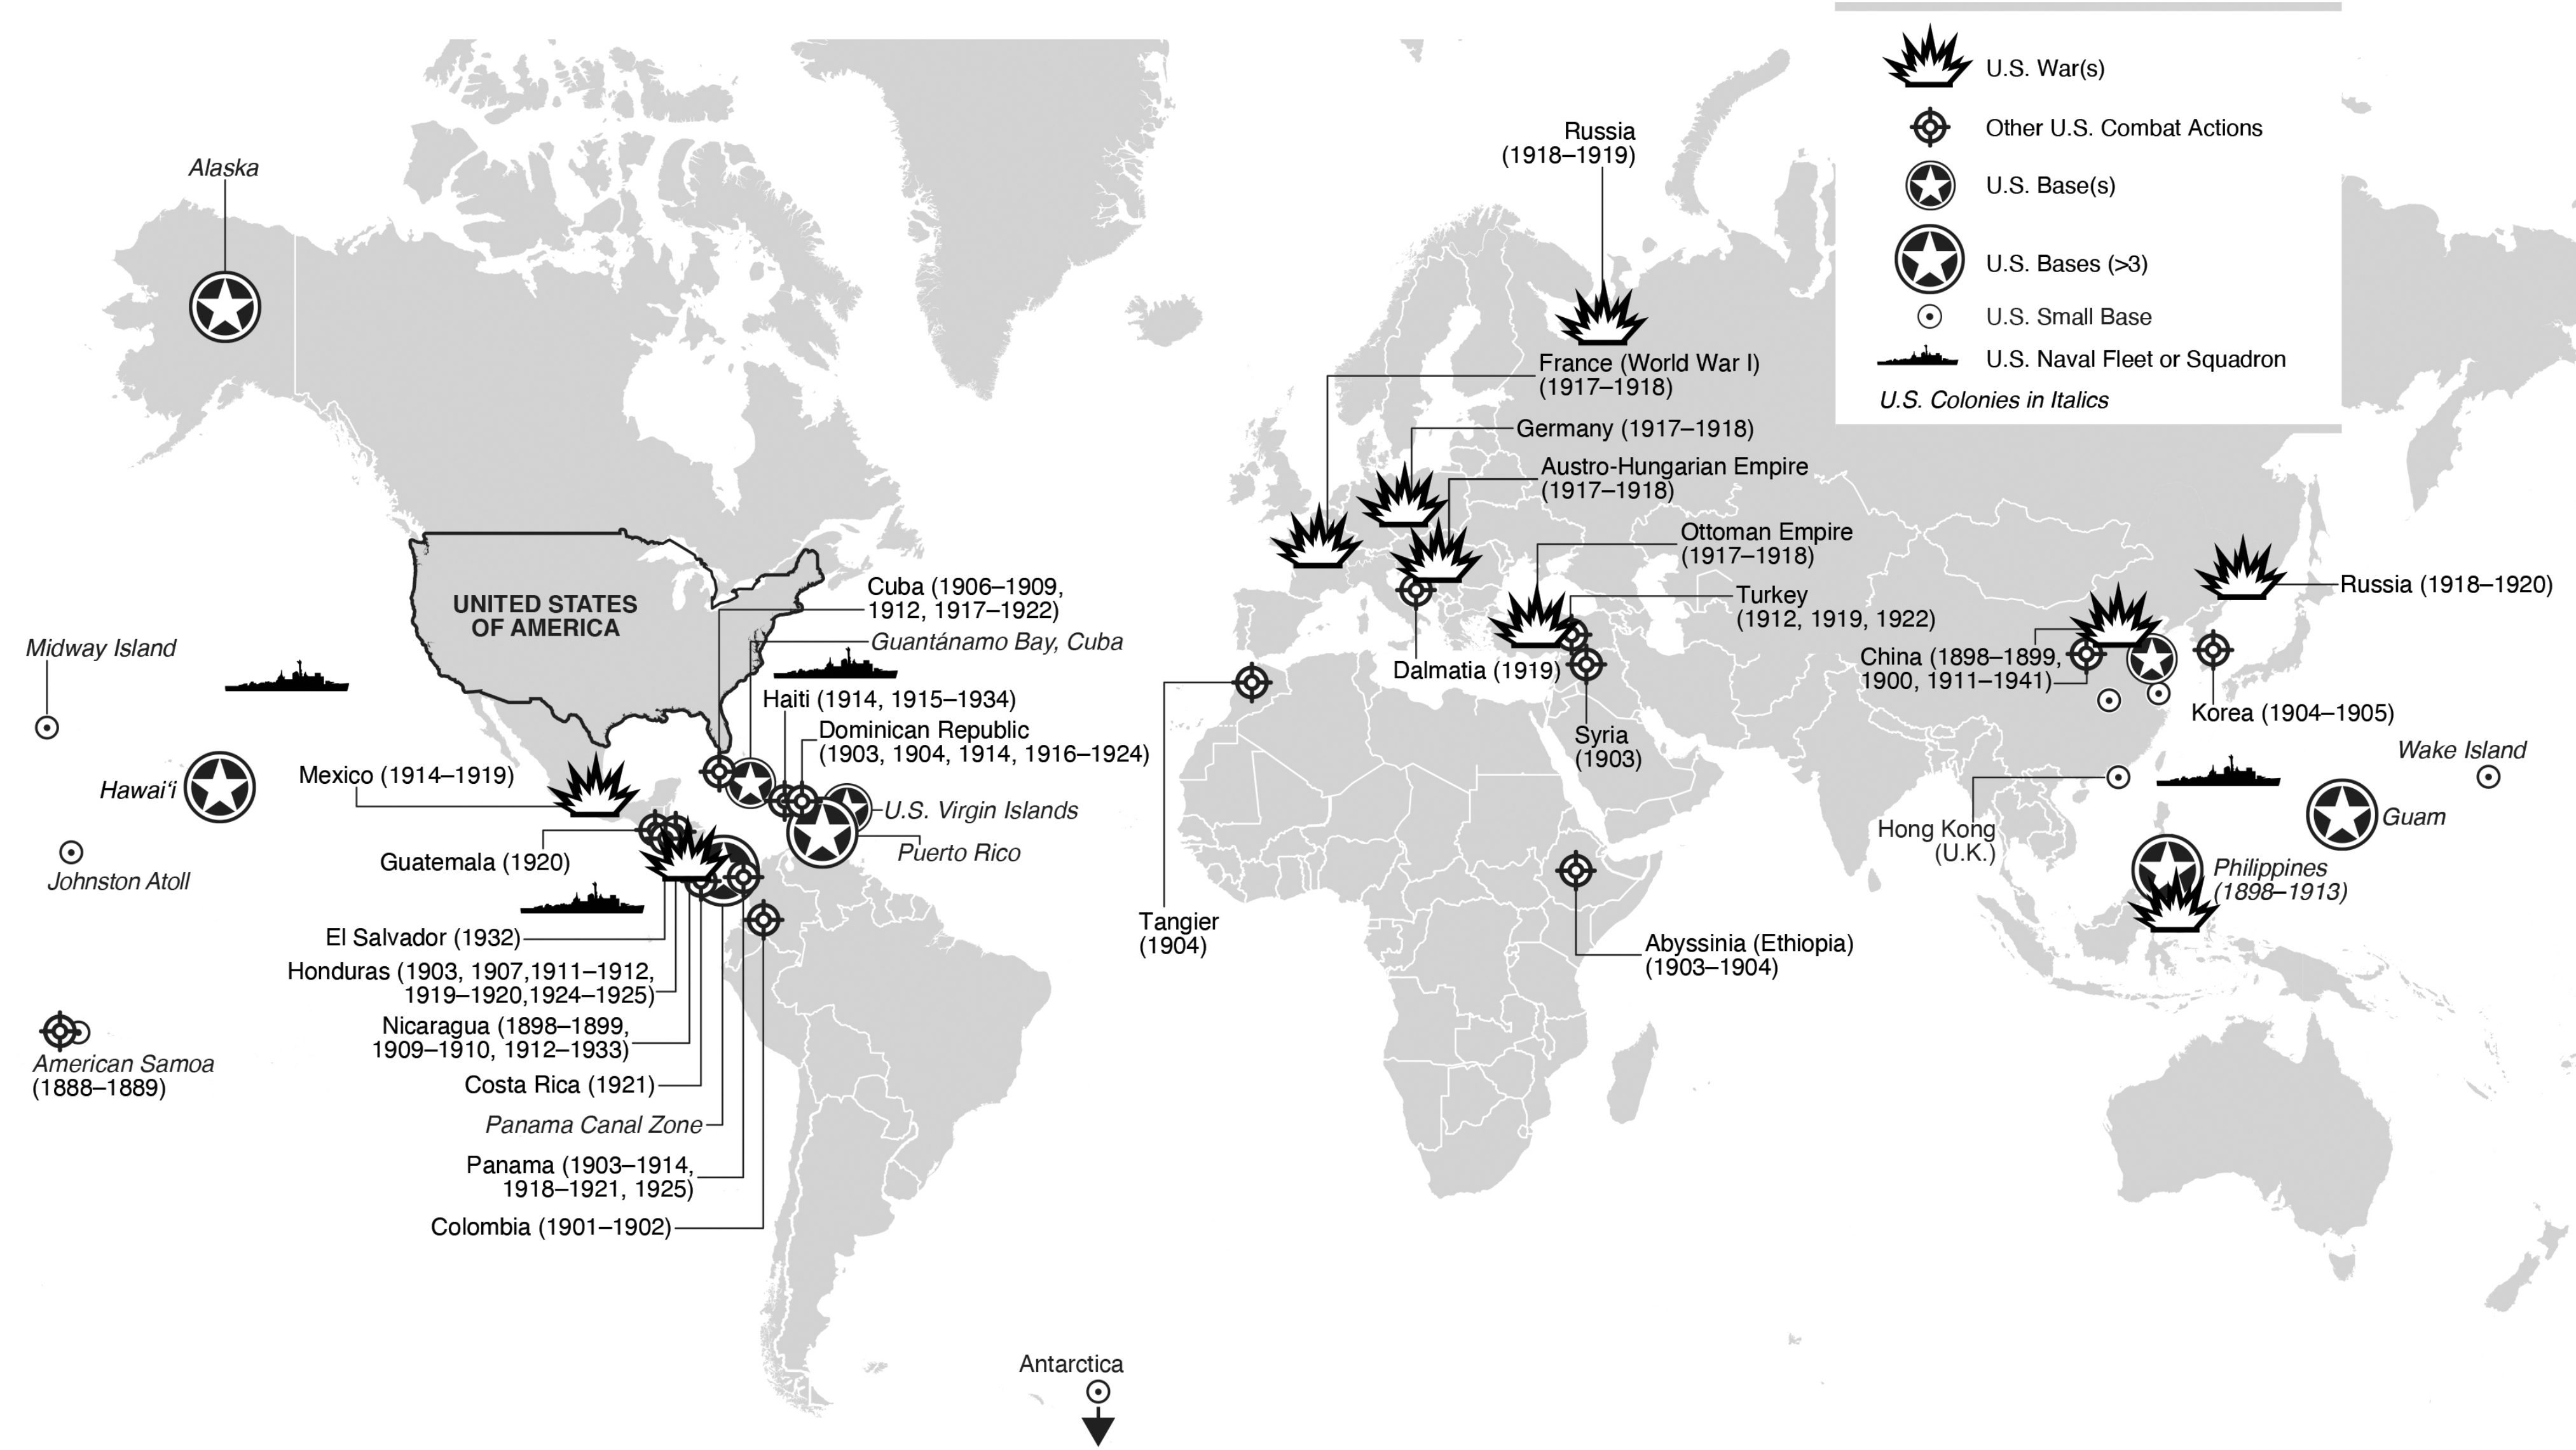

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1849–1898

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Because of space limitations, map does not reflect all conflicts between U.S. forces and Native American peoples. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. U.S. borders are for 1898. Other borders are contemporary. For ease of comparison we use a Mercator projection

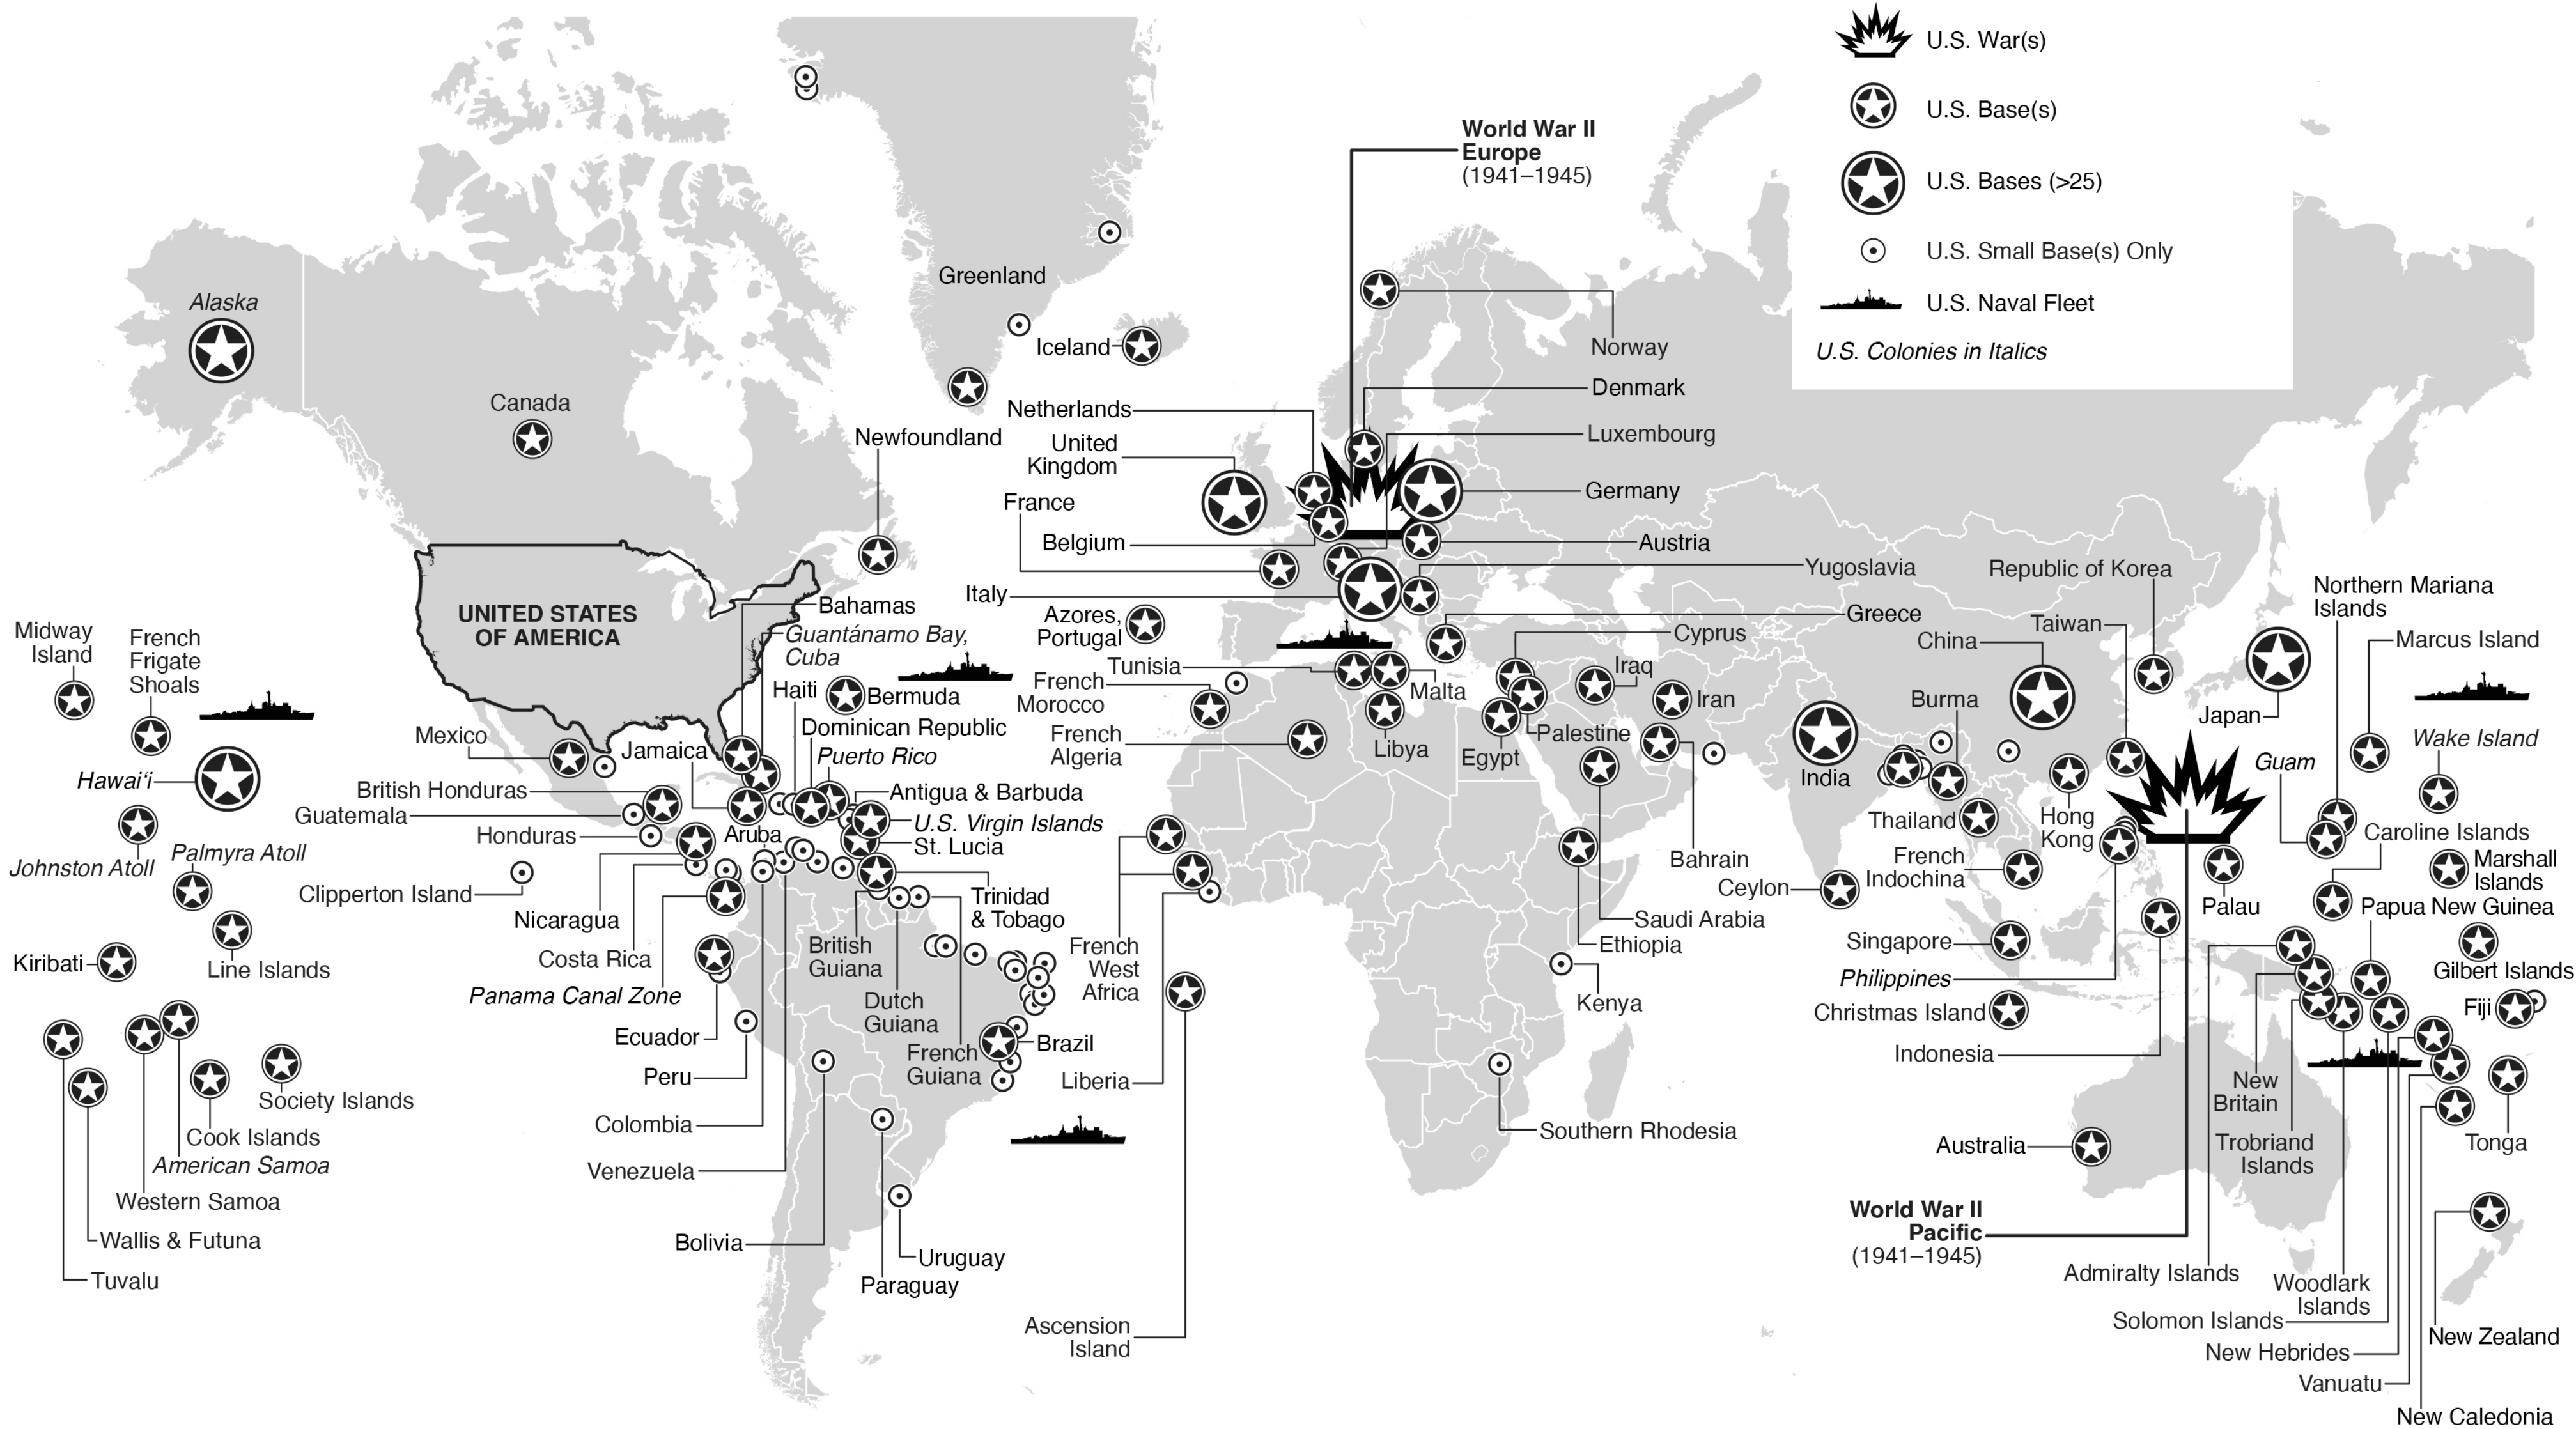

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1899–1940

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. Additional bases existed during frequent invasions and years- and decades-long occupations of Latin American countries. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1941–1945

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. At World War II's height, the United States controlled approximately 30,000 installations at 2,000 base sites abroad. Map reflects relative number and positioning of bases around 1945. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

Map by Kelly Martin / kmartindesign.com for David Vine, The United States of War: A Global History of America's Endless Conflicts, from Columbus to the Islamic State (University of California Press, 2020).

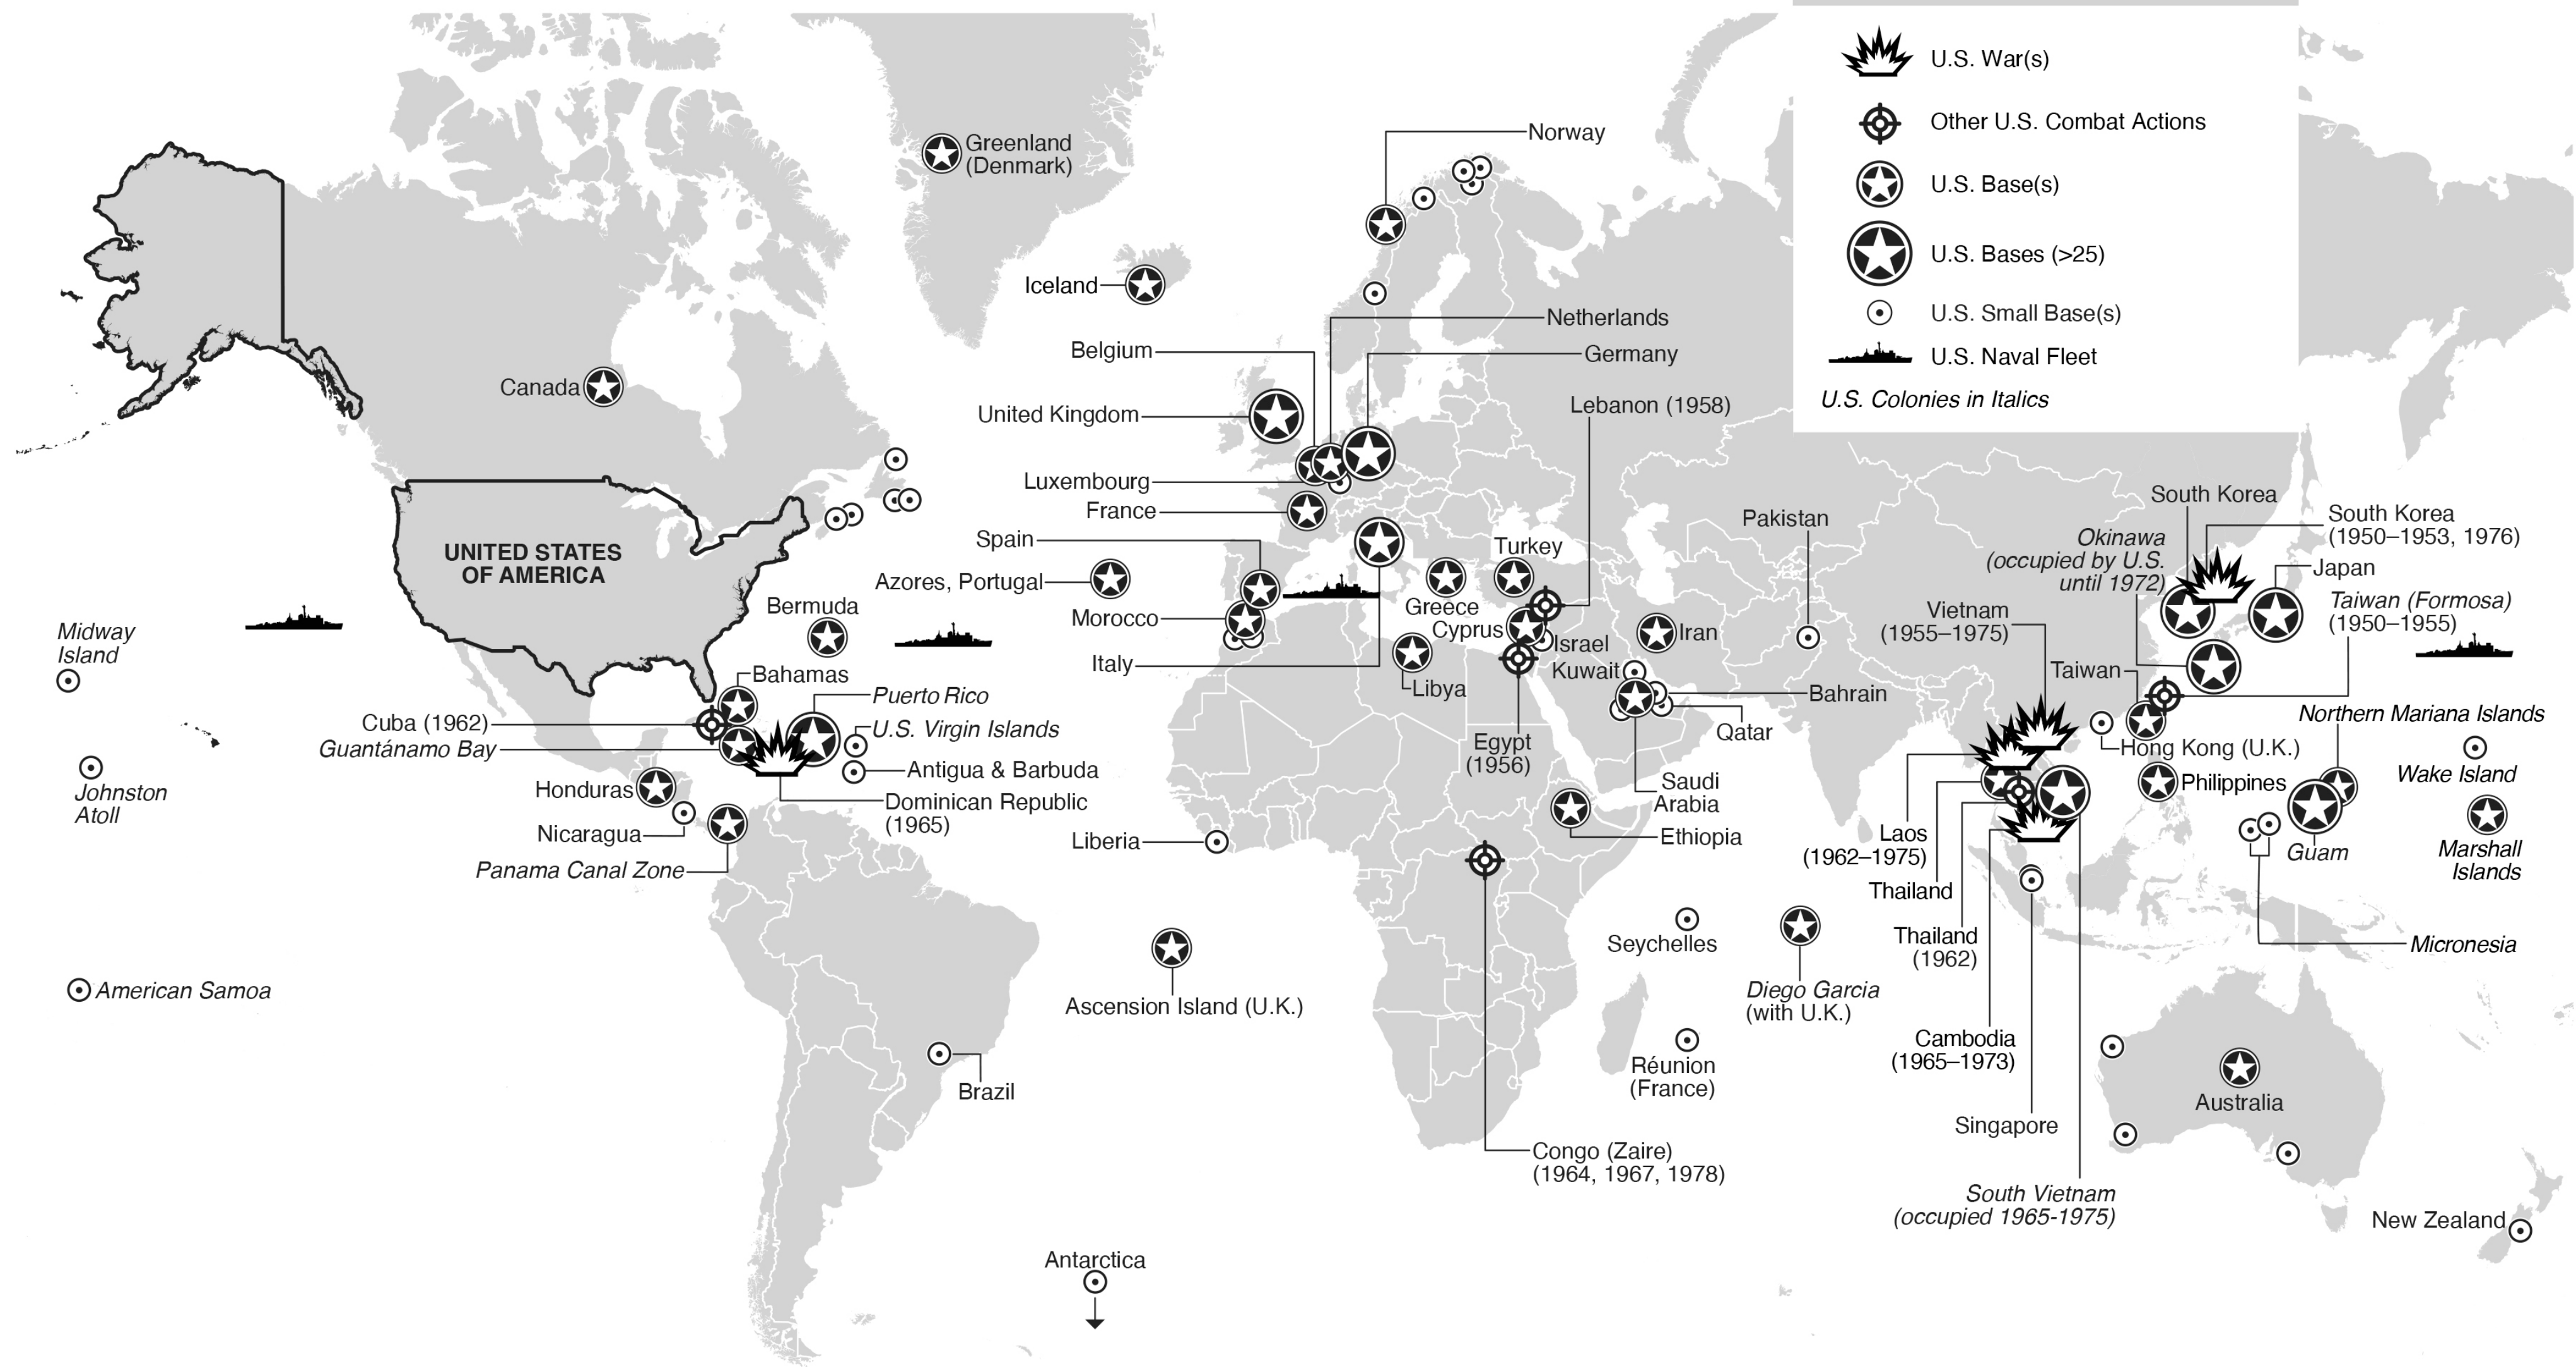

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1946–1949

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Map reflects relative number and positioning of bases, which totaled just under 600 in 1949. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

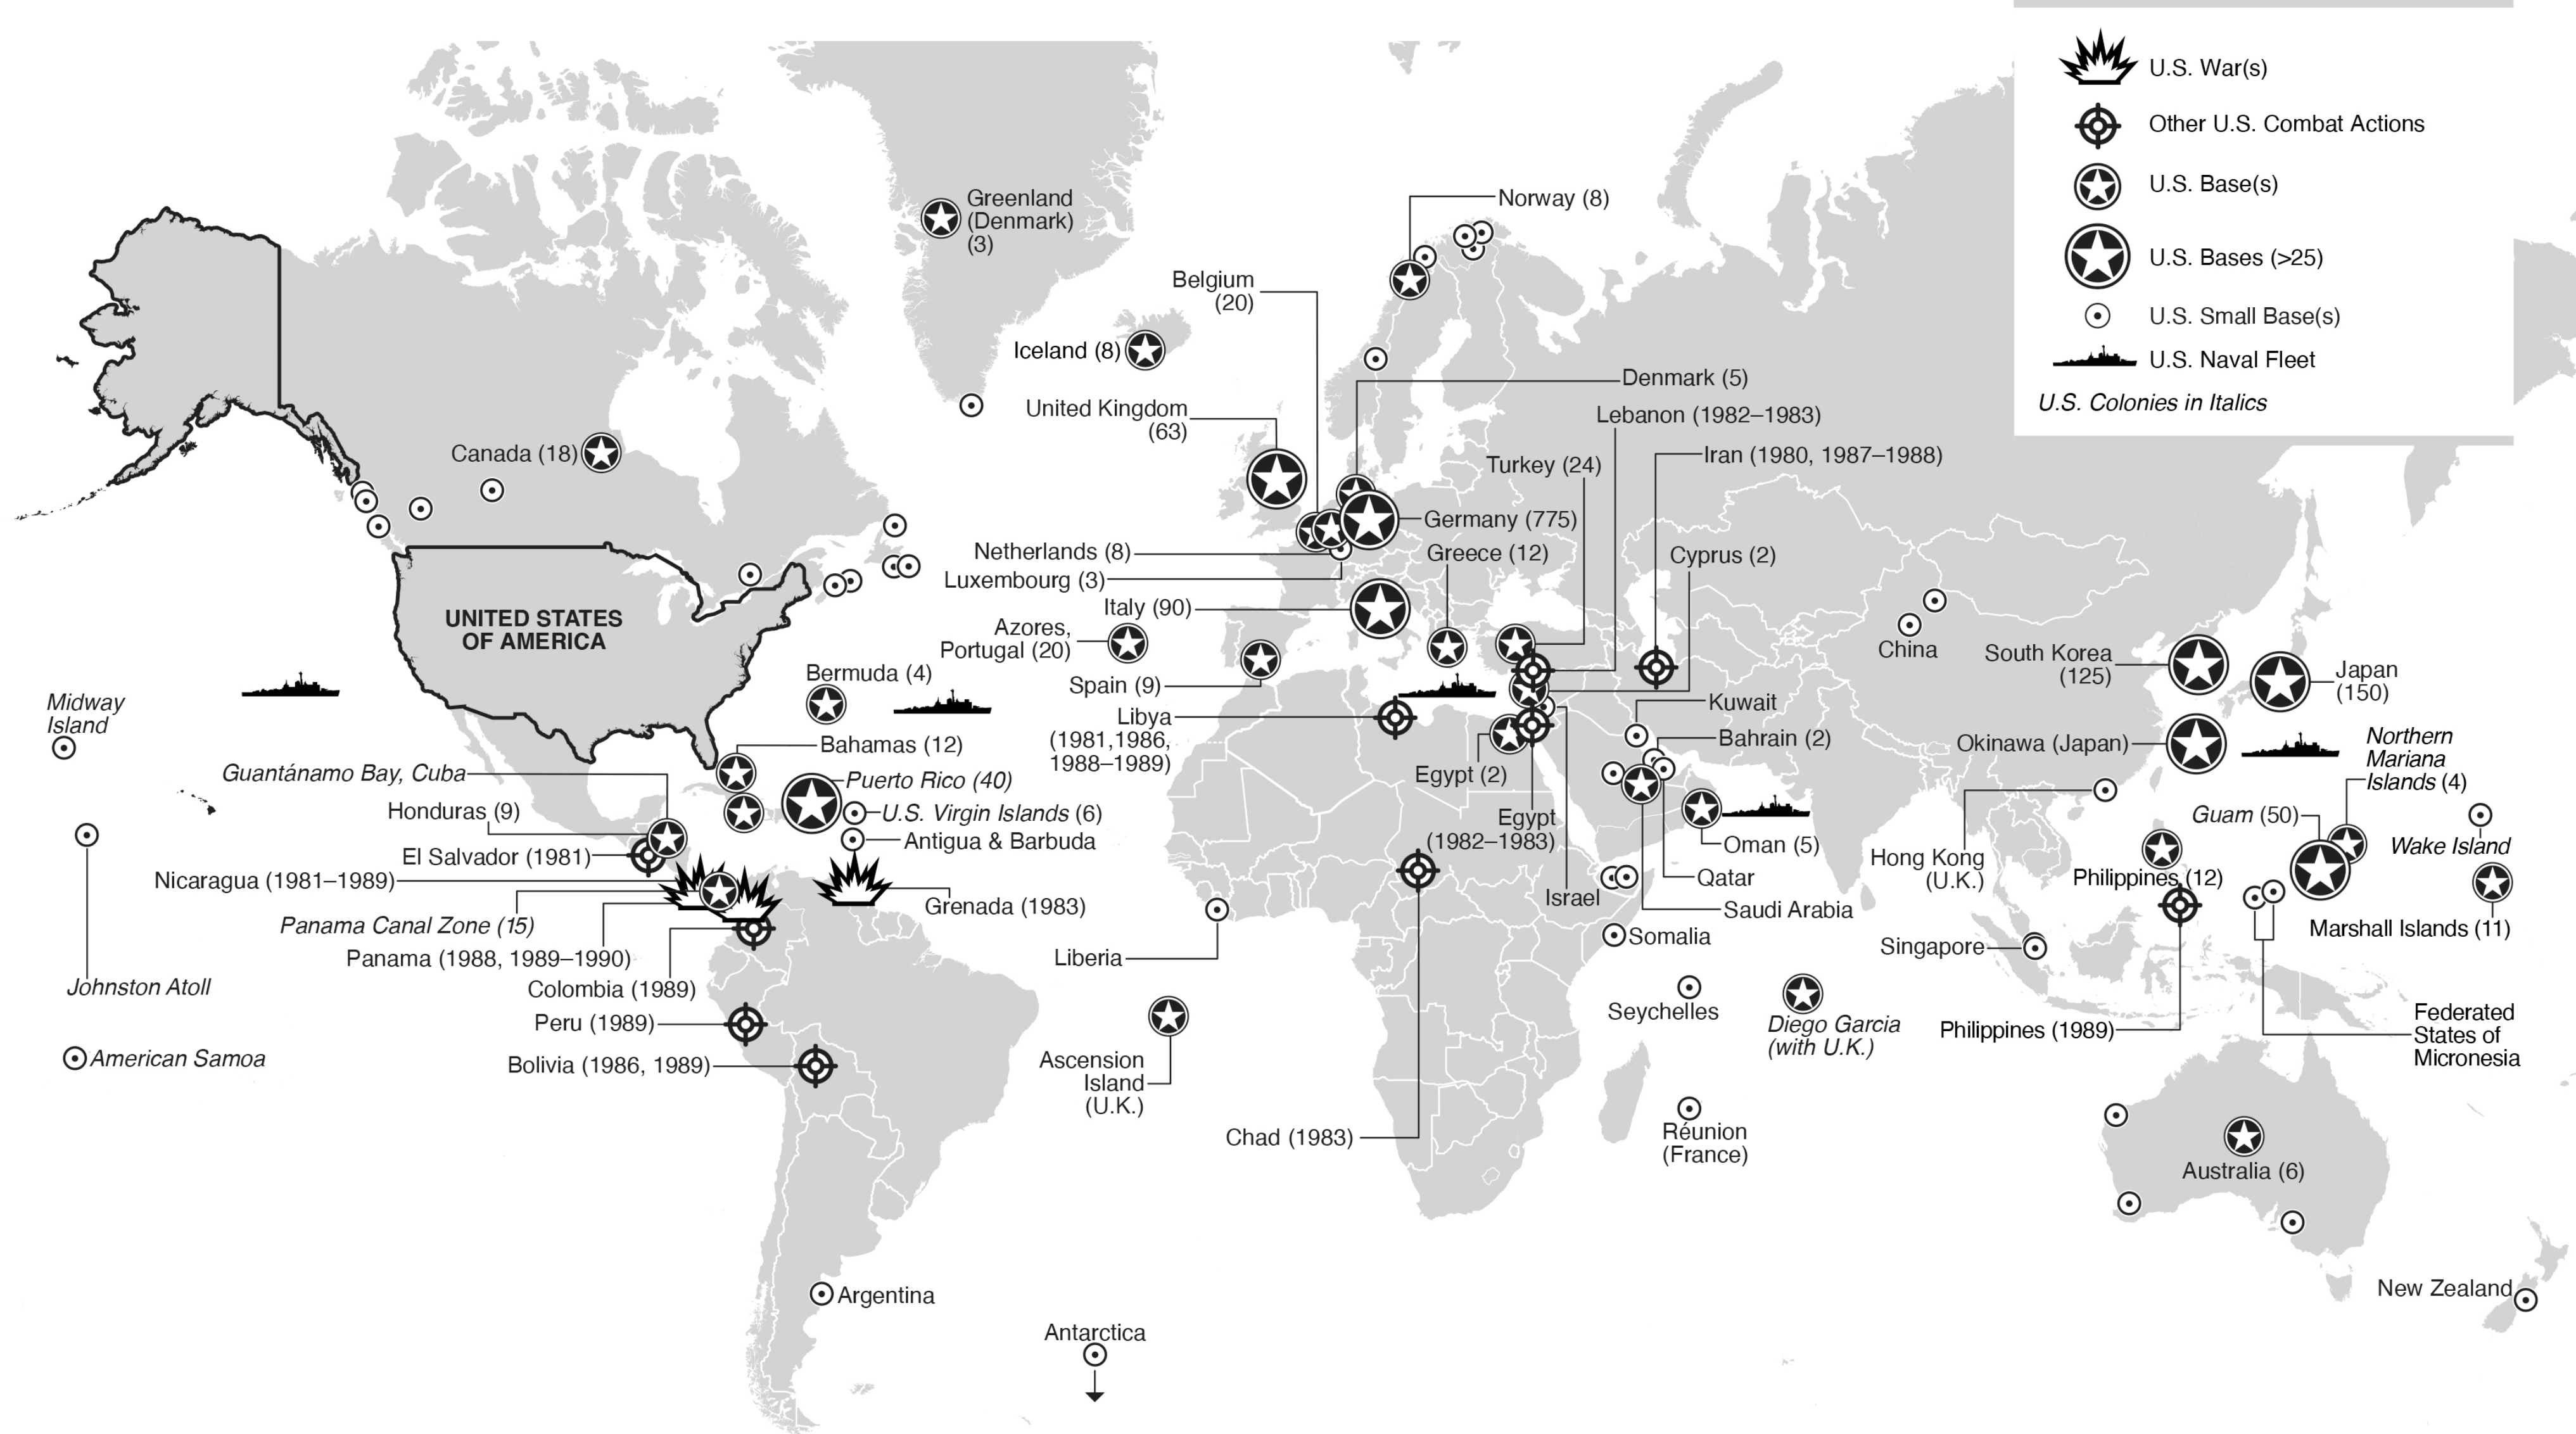

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1950–1978

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Map reflects relative number and positioning of bases, which totaled over 1,000 by the 1960s. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

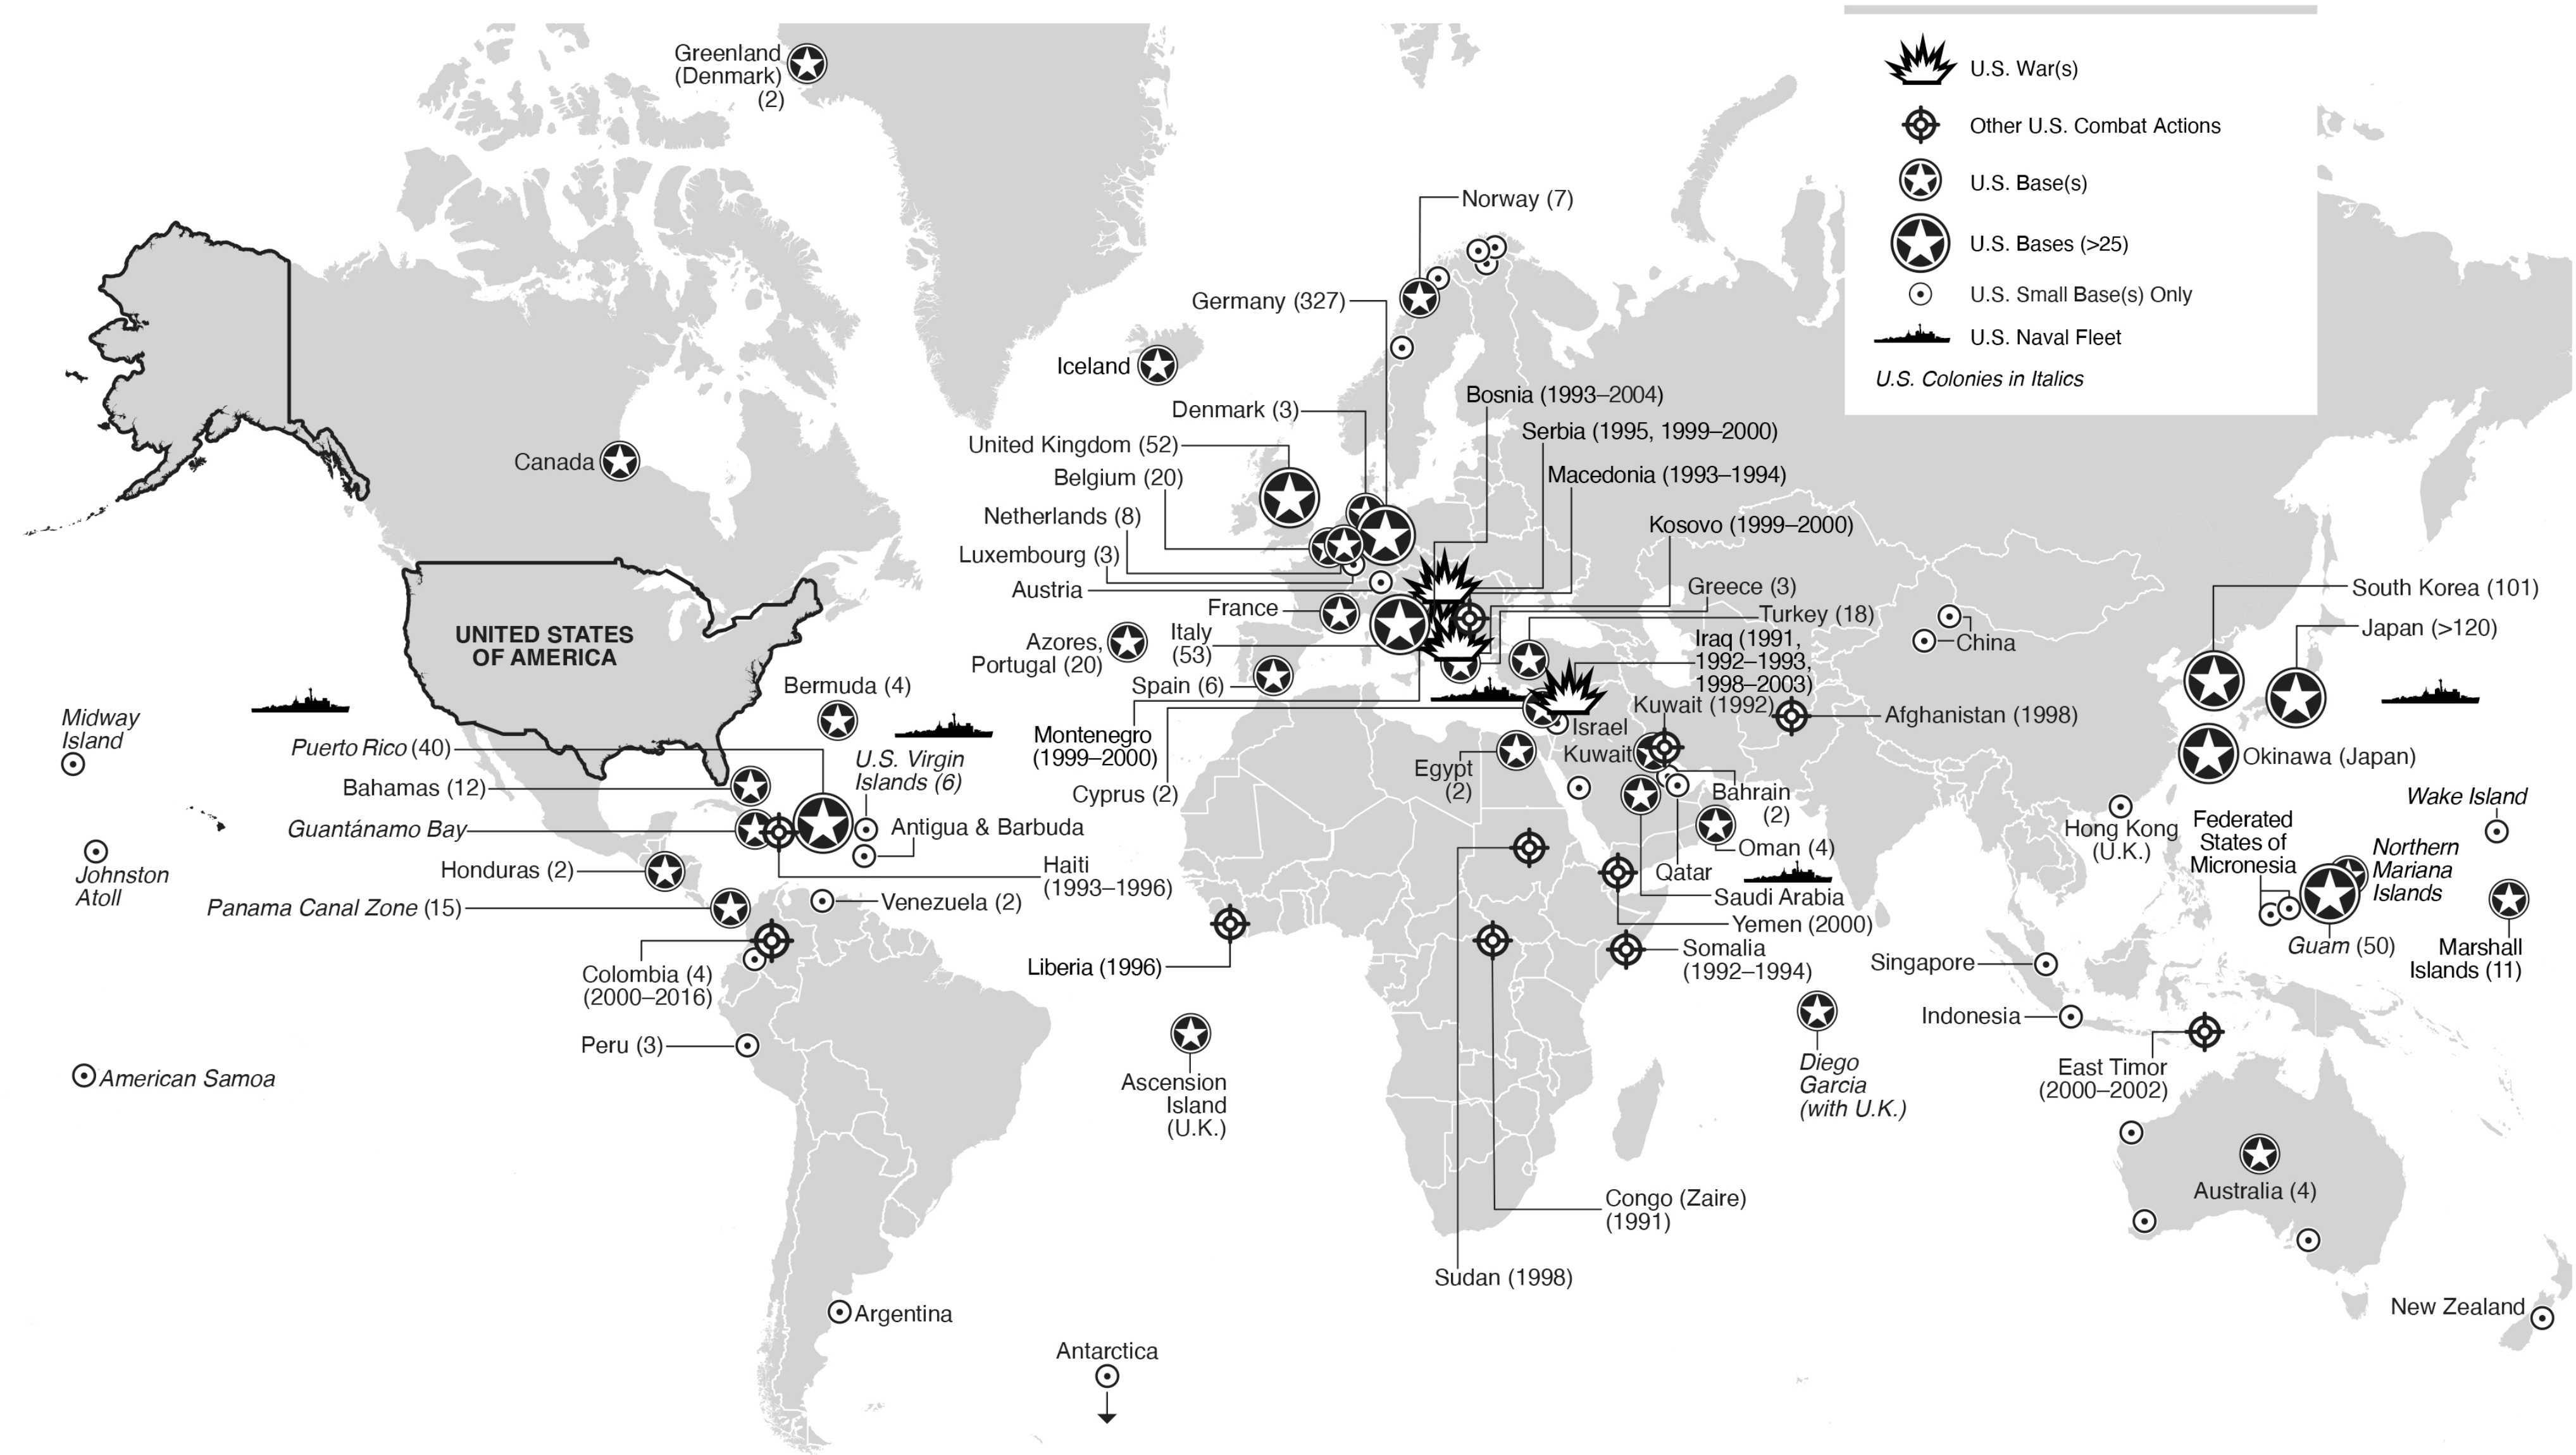

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1979–1989

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Map reflects relative number and positioning of bases, which totaled around 1,600 near the end of the so-called Cold War. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

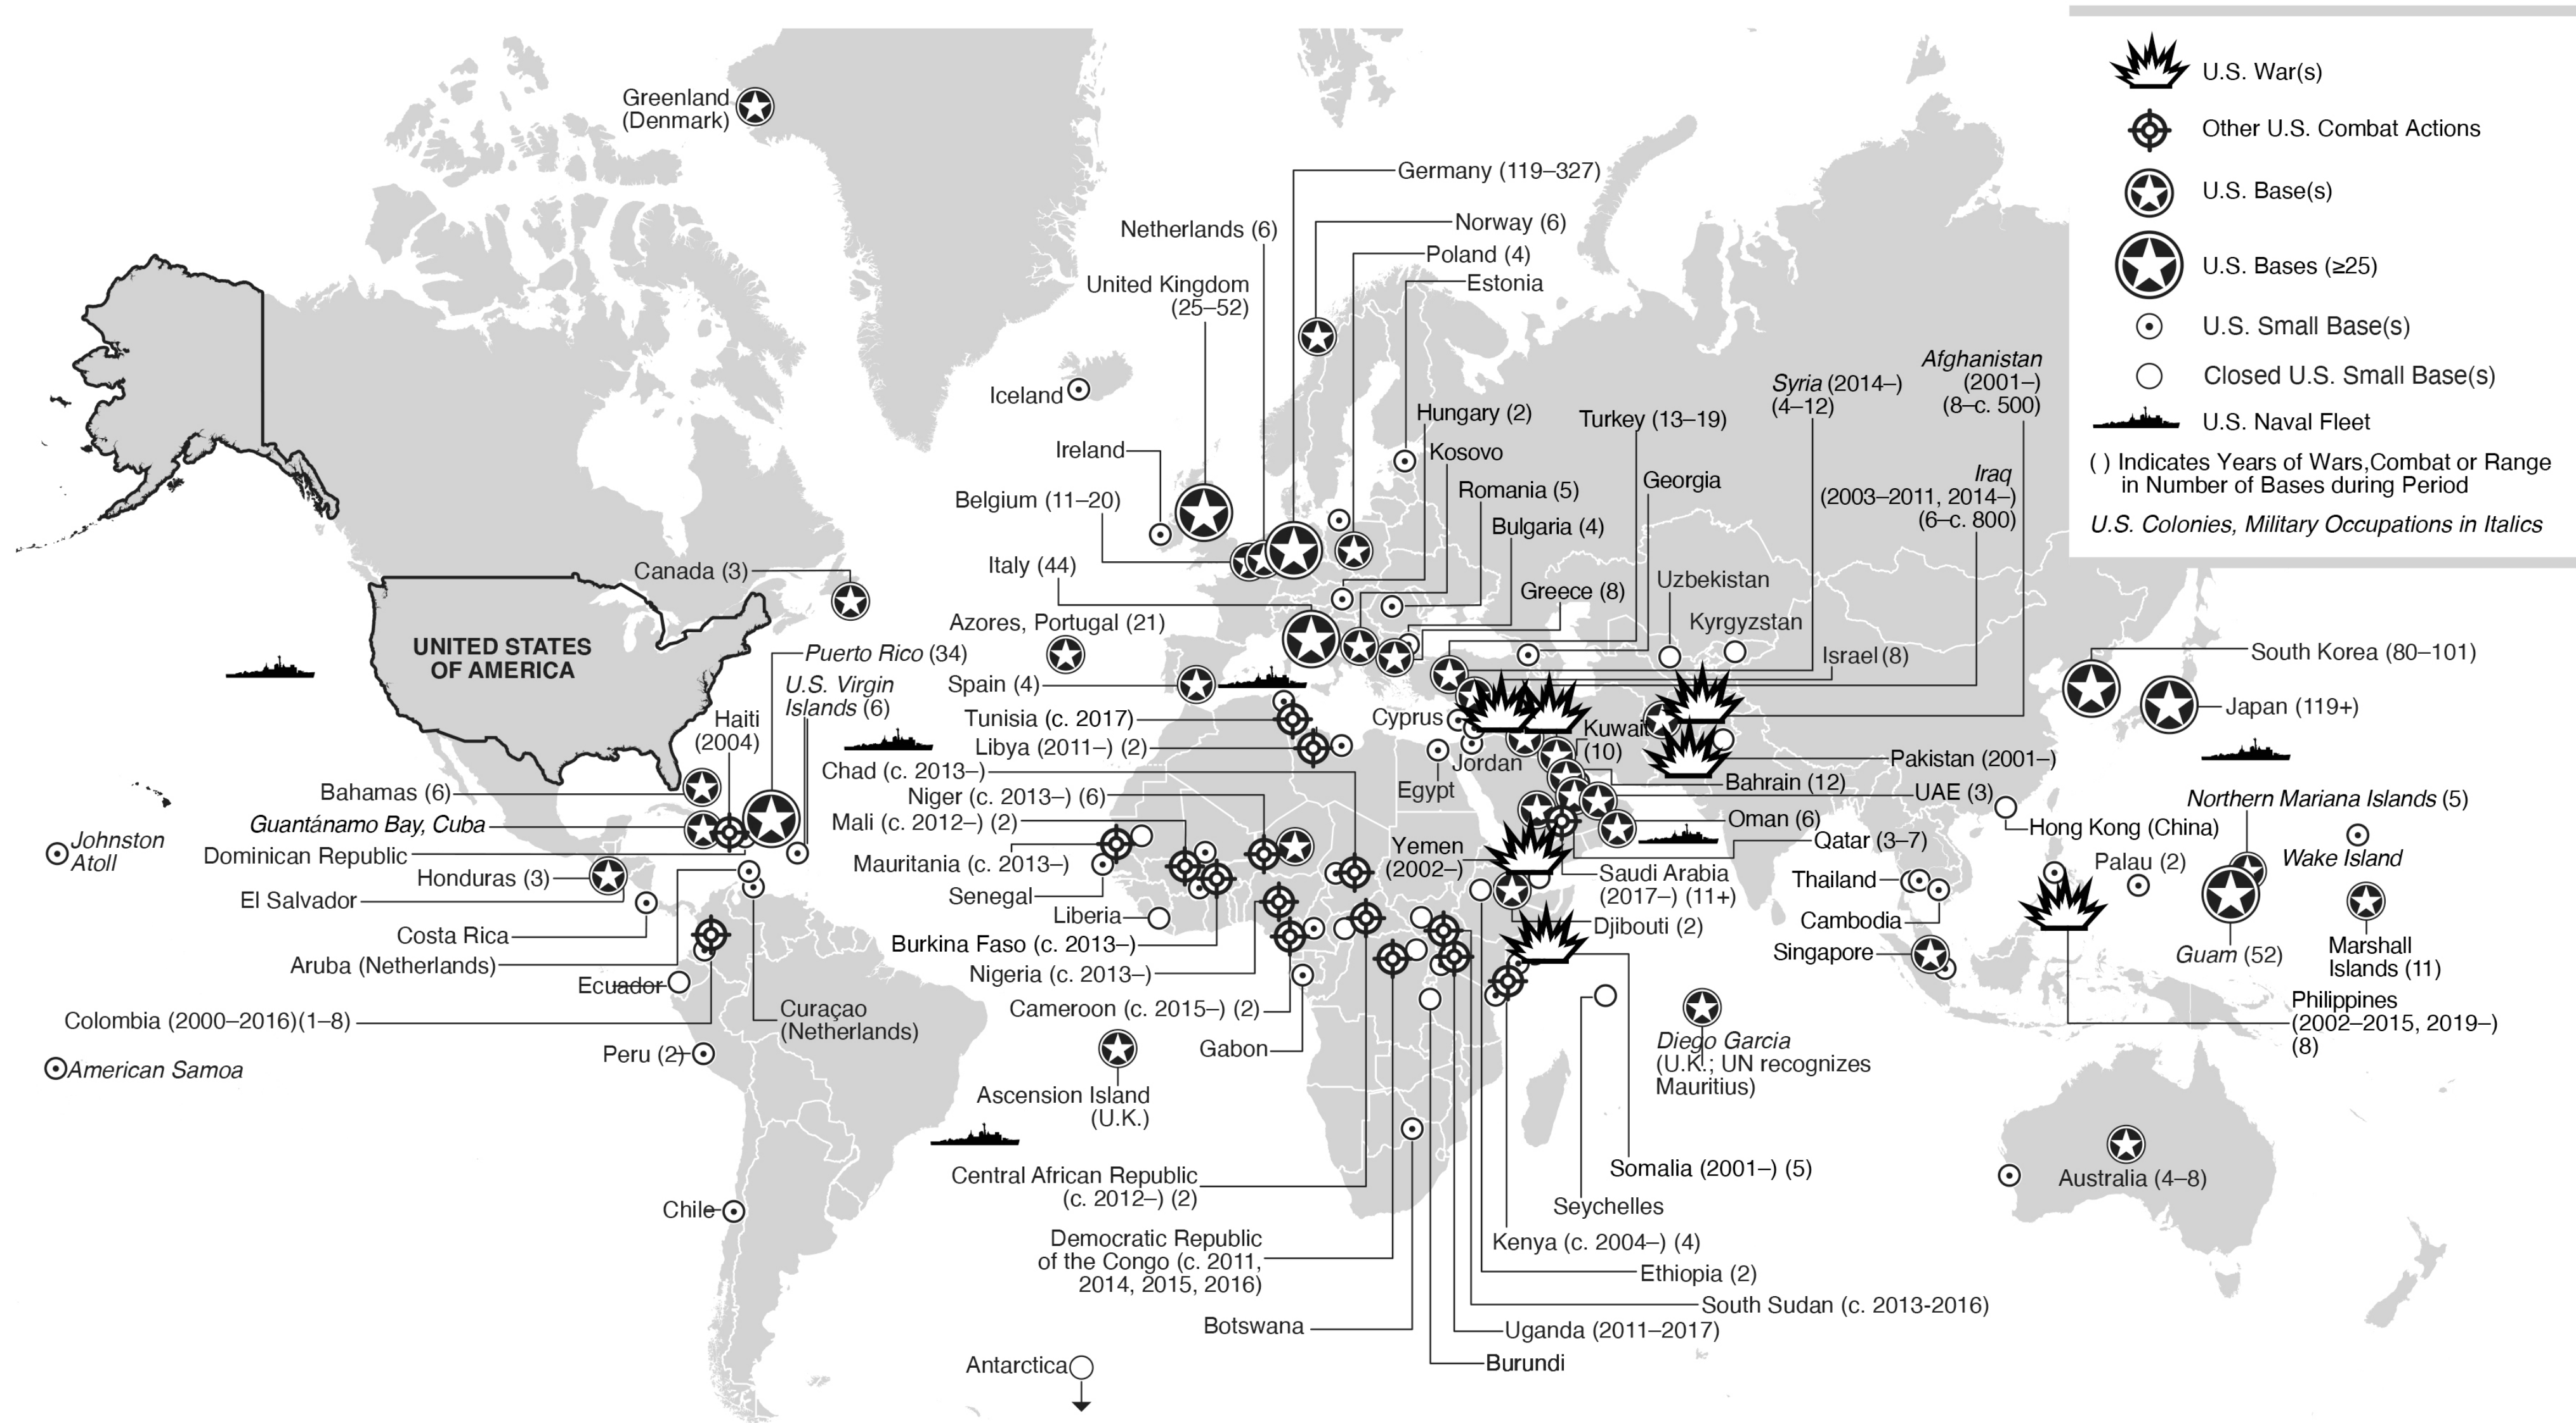

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 1990–2000

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. Approximately 60% of U.S. bases abroad closed after the end of the so-called Cold War. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

U.S. Wars, Bases, and Expansion Abroad, 2001–2020

Significant combat, bases, and expansion outside U.S. states. Some bases occupied for only part of this period. Base numbers range provided for countries with significant change during the period. During U.S. wars in Afghanistan and Iraq, there were over 2,000 bases abroad. There were around 800 in 2020. For ease of comparison we use contemporary borders and a Mercator projection.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

August 3, 2010

Ms. Peggy Madden Davitt
55 Amelia Street
Newport, Kentucky 41071

Dear Peggy:

I am deeply saddened to learn of the loss of your son, Specialist Russell E. Madden, USA. Our Nation will not forget his sacrifice, and we can never repay our debt to your family.

A simple letter cannot ease the pain of losing a child, but I hope you take solace in knowing that his brave service exceeded all measures of selflessness and devotion to this country. We honor him not only as a guardian of our liberty, but also as the true embodiment of America's spirit of service to a cause greater than ourselves.

Michelle and I offer our heartfelt sympathy, and pray that God's grace gives you comfort as you grieve. In life, your son was a shining example of all that is best in our land. In rest, may he find the peace we all seek.

Sincerely,
